Communications Department aims to resource, inspire and enable missionary disciples in our local churches through its publications, the BUGB website and e-news communications. (

Baptist Life

Transform

are two major items produced by the team.) The Department is also the Press Office for the BUGB and works with local, national and international media through proactive press releases and crisis media support for churches.

Communications strategic planning tips & training

The Department is keen to also equip local churches and associations to communicate effectively and with confidence where they are called to be. Our series of Top Tips, which cover many aspects of communications, are designed to enable them to do that.
